Beginning on Monday, Oct. 14, and continuing for the next two weeks, Fairfax County citizens will receive in the mail a pamphlet explaining the Fairfax County bond referendum questions that will be on the ballot on Nov. 5. The pamphlet is also available at Fairfax County public libraries, fire stations, senior citizen centers, Board of Supervisors' offices, Access Fairfax in the South County Center, the front desk of the Government Center and on the county's Web site at www.fairfaxcounty.gov.

The Nov. 5 General Election ballot in Fairfax County will contain two county bond referendum questions. The Park Bond question asks voters to allow the county to borrow up to $20 million for park projects that presently include the acquisition of land for new parks and development of facilities on existing park lands. The Public Safety Bond question asks voters to allow the county to borrow up to $60 million for public safety projects that presently include replacement of the Public Safety Communications Center/Emergency Operations Center; renovation of the Jennings Judicial Center; and renovation and improvements to priority fire stations, including construction of an appropriately located facility for the Hazardous Materials Response Unit.

Members of the Fairfax County Citizen Committee on the Fall 2002 Bond Referenda are available during the month of October to address community organizations about the public safety and parks bond referendum questions on the Nov. 5 General Election ballot in Fairfax County. The Board of Supervisors established the Citizen Committee with the primary goal of providing county residents with the information necessary to make informed decisions on the county issues, and to encourage them to express those decisions by voting on Nov. 5. The Citizen Committee, established and appointed by the Board of Supervisors, consists of one member from each supervisor's district and one at-large member, as well as one member each appointed from the Federation of Civic Associations, the League of Women Voters and the Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce.
